3	M) Read the text and answer the following questions. There is no way to express numbers or percentages how much parents love their children. Parents give life to their children, spare no pains to raise them, provide them with guide lines,help them solve their problems, and love them unconditionally. As children, we often forget how much they have done in our lives. Taking a second to think of their love and support can help to learn love and respect. As a young adult, one of the best ways you can show respect for your parents is by being grateful. Gratitude is being thankful and appreciative for what you have. Aside from bringing you into the world, parents dedicate time, energy, and effort in order to make sure your needs and wants are met. Showing them that you appreciate their efforts show a level of respect towards them; countless ways exist, but we mention just some of them here: ▪ Tell them face-to-face repeatedly. The easiest way to show gratitude is to thank them and tell them that you appreciate who they are and what they do. ▪ Do something small but meaningful. For example, clean the kitchen after dinner or take the trash out without being asked. Parents will notice and appreciate your acts of kindness. ▪ Encourage them on something they do well. For instance, tell your mom how great ofa cook she is, or tell your dad how awesome he is at his job. You may think of and find many other ways. Don't wait to show your appreciation. Do it now.Even the best of intention isn't as good as the poorest words like thank you. Generally, when you are appreciative; it makes other people feel they want to do more for you. When we fail to show appreciation, it makes others feel they want to do less or nothing for us. 40.What does being grateful mean? 41.What happens if we fail to show appreciation? 42. "Do something small but meaningful." means: a. Don't wait to show your appreciation. b. Noticing and appreciating the acts of kindness. c. Wait to show your appreciation. b. Show respect in a poor manner. c. Forget how much she has done in your life. d. Encourage her on something she does well.

3	N) Read the text and answer the following questions. There are many types of useful dictionaries that you can use. Electronic dictionaries are the best choice for students. They can be found in several forms including software which is installed on tablets, PCs, and mobile apps. Most of them contain native-language equivalents and explanations as well as definitions and example sentences in English. They can pronounce the English word to you, and they are easy to carry around. A good monolingual dictionary is recommended for students who already have an intermediate level of English. You can also use bilingual dictionaries, but don't trust them completely. A bilingual dictionary can be useful for quickly trying to understand meaning, but it may not provide you with the exact meaning. Some online dictionaries are suitable for everyday use and language learning, so surf the Net for the ones you like the most. Not all dictionaries work the same. Take the time to learn how to use yours. Read the introduction. Learn how to recognize syllables, pronunciation, meaning, examples, and any other information that your dictionary uses. Finding words quickly is a skill that you need to practice. Use the guide words at the top of each dictionary page and keep practicing until you can find any word within 10 seconds. Dictionaries are great resources, but in reading or listening to a text you should try to guess the meaning of words by the other words around them. If you still don't understand a word, look it up or make notes to look up the word later. -Choose the best item. 44.According to the passage, a/an ……dictionary can speak the English word to you. a. print b. monolingual c. electronic d. bilingual 45.You should use ……. words to find a word easily. a. introduction b. collocation c. guide d. combination True / False 46.In reading or listening to a text, you should guess the meaning of some words by the other neighboring words. a.
