A person, who does not sleep, dies at a younger age than one who does not eat. Let's say if you sleep 12 hours later than you usually do,it will take your body about three weeks to return to normal. We spend about one-third (1/3) of our lives in sleep. That's about 121 days a year! How much sleep do we require? We are all different. A baby needs 16 hours of sleep every day. Children 6 to 12 years old need an average of 10 to 12 hours of sleep. A teenager needs 9 to 10 hours, and an adult needs an average of 7 to 8 hours of sleep a night. Of course, some people need only 3 hours of sleep each night. Others need 10 hours of sleep. After age 50, the average sleep time goes down to 6.5 hours a night. We need less sleep as we get older. Choose the best answers: 43. How much do we sleep in our lives? ---------- . 44. Food is less important than sleep. a. True □ b. false □	3

Mahmoud Hessabi

Professor Mahmoud Hessabi was born in Tehran in 1903 to the family of Abbas and Goharshad Hessabi. His family's hometown is Tafresh, Markazi province, Iran. At the age of four, his family moved to Beirut where the young Hessabi attended primary school. He was still in secondary school when World War I started prompting the closure of his school; Hessabi continued his studies at home and in 1922, he earned a degree in road engineering from the American University of Beirut. After briefly working for the Ministry of Roads, Beirut, Hessabi traveled to Paris for further education. He continued his research in physics at Sorbonne University in France, and got his Ph.D. in physics from that University at the age of 25 in 1927.

Professor Hessabi was the only Iranian student of professor Albert Einstein, and during his years of scientific research, he had meetings with well-known scientists. During the congress of " 60 years of physics in Iran", the services rendered by him were deeply appreciated and he was entitled " the father of physics in Iran". Professor Hessabi was a dedicated scientist who did important works for improvement of our country, Iran. He founded Tehran University and also the first modern observatory in Iran. In Tehran, Hessabi was affiliated (connected) with the University of Tehran and organized the science and engineering faculties of the university. Professor doctor Hessabi died on 3rd of September 1992 at the University hospital of Geneva. Dr. Hessabi had always wished that the final dwelling of his body would be his mother-land, Tafresh. Now this wish has come true. May his way be full of followers and his memory everlasting.
