Suppose that you have a very small vocabulary. Also suppose that you don't know how to get the meanings of new words. When you come across an unfamiliar word, that word may stop your understanding of the passage. Your eyes pause too long on the word as you try to get its meaning. You go back and read the word again, try to get its meaning from the context. As a result, you read much more slowly than you should, and you find that the difficult word is a wall to your comprehension. Suppose that you know many words and you are skilled in finding the meanings of new words. Your

For English teachers, a dictionary is necessary for any teaching program and needs to be used carefully. A dictionary is the basic thing for any language class. The most important thing that a student should know is how to use it. A student needs to have at least three dictionaries available to learn English properly. The first one should be a bilingual dictionary that covers words in the native language as well as in English. The second one should be a monolingual dictionary that gives word information in English. The third one should be a native language dictionary. When teaching begins, learners will use a bilingual dictionary for simple translations. Monolingual dictionaries are also necessary pieces of language learning studies, because they provide learners with definitions, pronunciations, etc. The problem becomes hard with studies when the students do not fully understand the words they are translating, and they get confused. Teachers know that they should clear up the confusion quickly before they jump into to the next lesson. When the students enter a more advanced level, they must have a native language dictionary that relates to their own language. When they do not understand the meaning of a translated word in their own native language, they can use this dictionary to figure it out. 3
