II. Why is it important to care for our elders? First of all we need to remember that they are our mothers and fathers, and our first teachers. They teach us how to love, how to care, how to forgive, and how to accept.

Second, elders have more knowledge and wisdom than any of us. They have come so far and they have learnt so much. We have a responsibility to learn from that wisdom. But the most important is their experience. We may or may not know all the ups and downs they have faced in life, but they have gained experience that is worth respecting and learning from. Our elders may hide much pain from us, because they don't want us to feel the pain. The least we can do is appreciate them for all they have gone through and learn from their insight into situations.

Yet another important thing is our heritage and culture. We have much to learn from our parents regarding our heritage, to be proud of our past. This heritage and history brings a sense of belonging. Most importantly it bring us a sense of identity of our past and the responsibility to protect it for our future generations.

What can be added at the end is the role of our parents morals, values, and principles in our lives. Our elders have either learned, created or have been brought up with a set of morals, values, and principles in their lives. Our elders want the best for us and they are willing to tell us what set of rules and guidelines have made them successful, and hopefully, peaceful.
