When Agnes was 12, she chose a religious life. Mother Teresa became a nun at age 18 and first travelled to Ireland for religious study and then went to India to study and get training as a nun. She worked at Saint Mary's High School in Calcutta, India. There she taught young girls from some of the city's poorest families. While she was there, Mother Teresa learned to speak the local languages of Bengali and Hindi. Mother Teresa continued to live In Calcutta and teach at Saint Mary's High School Then, in 1946, she received a message from God. She heard God speak to her and tell her that she should stop teaching and help the poorest and sickest people in Calcutta. Because she was a good nun, Mother Teresa did what she believed God told her to do. She stopped working at the school, and studied medicine for six months. Then, she went to the poorest areas of Calcutta, and spared no pains to help the poor people who lived there.

First, Mother Teresa built a school and some medical centers. This helped the children get an education and the sick people get medical help. She soon built more medical centers. Besides, Mother Teresa founded her group of Charity In 1950. Soon the group grew quickly, and it was receiving money from around the world. This allowed them to help even more people.

In 1965, Mother Teresa began travelling around the world and helping people in many different countries. Soon, Mother Teresa was known around the world as a person who cared for poor people. She was given many International awards for helping people including the Nobel Peace Prize in 1979.

Mother Teresa died on September 5, 1997. She was regarded as an international symbol of charity. People around the world will always remember Mother Teresa for her kindness and for the work that she did to help and care for other people.
