When to look up a word, how an English dictionary is compiled, and which description to choose will help you effectively use the dictionary to improve your understanding of the reading texts. First, decide when to use the dictionary. Guess the meaning of the word based on the context before looking it up. Read the whole sentence, and continue to read the paragraph to see if you can guess the meaning of the word based on the information coming after or before it. Identify the part of speech, if you can, to help you find the meaning of the word. Look for prefixes, suffixes or roots that suggest the word meaning. If you are still confused or think you are missing important information, now it is the time to take out the dictionary. Decide which type of dictionary to use. There are different types of dictionaries available. شرح سوال صفحه چهارم

When someone feels lonely or stressed, connecting with others can help reduce negative emotions and bring a sense of purpose. Building relationships is not always easy, especially during difficult times. Some people may feel nervous or unsure about meeting new people. However, joining activities such as sports teams, clubs, or community programs can make social interaction easier. These activities allow people to share common interests and feel accepted. Strong social connections can also improve health. People who feel supported are more likely to manage stress better and develop positive habits.
